In this environment there is increasing interdisciplinary collaboration between the applied and the visual arts.

REPORTING RELATIONSHIPS

POSITION OBJECTIVES

This position will be a significant academic appointment within the new major of Interior Design in the Bachelor of Digital Media. The job will involve teaching and research into all facets of interior design digital media and will involve the convening of the major in interior design as well as teaching specific courses within it. An understanding of innovative digital media directions for interior design, such as scanning for restoration, advanced technology textiles and 3D printing would be desirable. The position will be based at the Gold Coast campus but some deployment to other campuses of the University may arise on occasion.

KEY ACCOUNTABILITIES:

- Prepare and conduct lecturers, tutorials, seminars, practical classes, demonstration, workshops, student field excursions, and studio sessions.
- Convene courses and contribute to the development of course material with appropriate advice from and support of senior colleagues.
- Conduct and publish high quality research, apply for grants and contribute to other research programs within the QCA as appropriate.
- Undertake marking, assessment, consultation with students and moderate the tutoring and assessment work of tutors and markers.
- Participate in professional association(s), professional and community activities of relevance to the QCA.
- A range of administrative functions the majority of which are connected with the subjects in which the academic teaches.
- Promote compliance with relevant legislation and University policies and procedures, including equity and health & safety and exhibit good practice in relation to same.
- Lead fair, ethical and professional work practices in accordance with the University Code of Conduct.

SELECTION CRITERIA

- A doctoral qualification relevant to the field, or substantial progress towards such a qualification, and/or industry experience recognised by the University as appropriate for the relevant discipline area.
- Demonstrated knowledge of current teaching and learning principles and practices and ability to teach undergraduate and postgraduate courses and supervise Honours and/or Research Higher Degree students. Evidence of teaching and course evaluations are required.
- A demonstrated capacity to engage in high quality research, the ability to initiate, manage, complete and publish research and/or research related consulting activities, as well as capacity to participate in competitive research grants. Evidence of an established research profile for creative works is desirable.
- Demonstrated proficiency in comprehension and verbal and written communication in Griffith's language of instruction (English).
- Demonstrated organisational and administrative skills and the ability to work as a member of a collaborative team.
- A demonstrated capacity to engage in community engagement activities relevant to the College and establish industry links.
