

Connecting researchers to great opportunities

PiirusMatch

Matching your needs to cutting-edge research expertise

PiirusMatch

Our new PiirusMatch consultancy service quickly connects international organisations, governments and policy makers with world-class researchers and academic experts around the globe. PiirusMatch provides access to great minds, high quality evidence and a global talent pool of independent researchers and academic researchers at HE institutions around the world.

“Significant expertise can add value where evidence is incomplete or can be misrepresented or difficult to navigate.”

What are the benefits of PiirusMatch?

Connect to a global network of academics and researchers

Access the right expertise at the right time

Support small-scale projects with tight deadlines

Support projects that demand flexibility and responsiveness

Find trusted experts beyond your normal networks

“PiirusMatch will match specialist experts to your specific needs.”

Why we've launched PiirusMatch

We can provide you with access to credible and renowned academic consultants who can support you in a number of different ways:

Reviewing evidence

- Assessing research evidence
- Identifying best available evidence
- Determining applicability of evidence

Thought leadership

- Expert witnesses
- Contributing to boards and seminars
- Taking part in “hack days” and “ideas jams”

Change expertise

- Advising on end user needs
- Providing baseline positioning
- Advising on proven delivery processes
- Determining success criteria

Data analysis

- Working with analytical teams
- Interpreting data
- Carrying out rapid reviews
- Providing insight

Expert advice

- Ministerial correspondence
- Parliamentary questions
- Evidence-informed policy

Implementation

- Supporting policy development
- Advice on project management
- Due diligence

“With a growing demand for agile, ‘just in time’ access to trusted expertise, identifying experts from around the world can be challenging and time consuming. We take away this pain by quickly identifying suitable experts and brokering relationships.”

Our service - how it works

“Just let us know who you’re looking for and together we will define the perfect candidate. We will then find you the talent that matches your brief and expectations.”

5.
WE SEARCH

...and provide a shortlist from our global talent pool
