

PhD Vlog Introduction: Emma Cole

TIME	SPEAKER	AUDIO
00:00:05	Emma Cole	Hi there, my name is Emma Cole and I'm currently in the final stages of finishing my PHD. I submitted my thesis on the 30 th of June through the Department of Greek and Latin at University College, London and my thesis explored the reception of ancient tragedy in post-dramatic theatre which is a form of experimental or Avant Garde performance. Alongside currently preparing for my Viva, I'm also gearing up to start my first ever academic appointment in September, and so throughout the jobs.ac.uk blogging month
00:00:35		I'm going to be looking back upon the final year of my PHD, talking about the Viva preparation and aftermath and also talking about how I went about obtaining that first academic appointment. I'm really looking forward to sharing a month with you, so I hope you'll join me throughout the journey, I'll look forward to seeing you then, and bye for now.
